

On the One Hand--

you have the unrestricted choice of

Thousands of Men's Summer Suits

that bear our label—that show the unmistakable signs of our superior making.

Hundreds that are marked $10.00

Hundreds that are marked $12.50

Hundreds that are marked $13.50

and the marked price is the worth price—the price that they've been selling at all during the season—with our guarantee still behind them—

They're Yours for--

There's a wide distinction between the wholesome integrity of this sale and the innumerable fakes and nondescripts that by wily methods and flaming announcements are angling for your credulity. There's not a stitch of old stock here. There's not a Suit among these thousands that isn't worth at this very minute the full price. We haven't hid away the desirable and left you the bones to pick.

Single-Breasted Sacks. Which? Regent Cutaways.
Double-Breasted Sacks. Which? Conservative Cutaways.

A. SAKS & COMPANY Y
"SAKS' CORNER,"
Main and Eleventh streets.

THE BRITISH CRISIS.

Result of the Special Cabinet Council
Held Yesterday.

ROSEBURY GOES TO WINDSOR.

Will He Tender His Resignation to the Queen?

SUCCESSION TO CAMBRIDGE.

Conraught Proposed as Commander-in-Chief of the Army—Battenberg for the Vice-royalty of India—Other Foreign Notes.

LONDON, June 22.—A majority of the Ministry are averse to a policy of immediate dissolution, and the Liberal wings, giving assurance of victory in the House, if the Ministry is challenged, strengthens them in this position. The retirement of Mr. Campbell-Ramsey would involve a thorough reconstruction of the Cabinet, which, in the present temper of the House, and in view of the narrowness of the government majority at the best, is liable to meet defeat any day, and certainly cannot remain in office a great while after the close of the session.

The Unionists, in accepting the challenge, will bring every man of the party into the division. Most of the party members agree that the best course to pursue is to ask the House to dissolve the Ministry, as no possible precautions are likely to prevent the opposition from inflicting another defeat and disgracing the party.

MILITARY CALL-IN NAPFLING.

It has transpired that at the moment of his night's dissolution there was, according to the Liberal whip, a majority of sixteen for the government. While the cabinet was in session, when the Unionist members were some of them and slipped off the House unseen. The whip was brought and smacking on the terrace overlooking the Thames. Others had gone away, thinking that matters were all right, and the party was safe. When the Queen was asked what she will be doing, she said that the party was caught napping.

The Liberals who are in favor of dissolution say that the same thing will occur again, and that the whip, at least, cannot be kept from the stairs.

MILITARY CALL-IN CAMPBELL.

The prospects for the success of the Liberals in the next general elections are daily growing worse, in consequence of the action of the government in regard to the two special cabinets. On the one hand, the irritation of the Nonconformists toward the Liberal members, who, submitting to the party-whips, voted against nonconformist candidates, and, on the other, the militant Puritans as Garrison, William Albert Spicer, and Angus Holden, who falsified their opinions for the sake of personal gain.

The Irish members, who intend to oppose the proposal to grant a site for the state within the precincts of the Royal Palace, and the condition of the old Tories to defect the party, so that those members are warned by the Daily Mail that they are trying the patience of the Liberal party far in this matter, which, though of minor consequence, in itself, is likely to lead to such a political revolution of Radical feeling against the Irish as to cause the abandonment of the principle of home rule.

CROMWELL STATUS MATTER.

The prospects for the success of the Liberals in the next general elections are daily growing worse, in consequence of the action of the government in regard to the two special cabinets. On the one hand, the irritation of the Nonconformists toward the Liberal members, who, submitting to the party-whips, voted against nonconformist candidates, and, on the other, the militant Puritans as Garrison, William Albert Spicer, and Angus Holden, who falsified their opinions for the sake of personal gain.

The speaker states that Mr. Gladstone does not desire a general election or the resignation of the Ministry, that his relations with the government are now what they were before he became a member of the party, and that he is friendly and loyal to the Ministry, and has confidence in it.

Letters from Mr. Gladstone to friends in London report the ex-Prime Minister as being in excellent health, and that he is doing well, and is taking the air.

The Duke of Devonshire, the Unrest leader in the House of Lords, is staying at Ascot, and Mr. Chamberlain, the leader of the Unionists in the Commons, remains at the same place.

A meeting of the Unionists will be held Monday.

POSSIBLE CABINET ACTION.

Irish Members Held Responsible for the Existing Situation.

LONDON, June 22.—Postmaster-General Arnold Morley and the Secretary of State for War were summoned to confer with Lord Rosebery after the adjournment of the Cabinet council to-day.

This started a rumour that the minister would be called to resign, cast upon the Opposition the responsibility of government, and make them select the time for the dissolution of Parliament.

Arnold Morley has proposed non-confidence measures and appeal to the country later.

These courses would probably prevent the Irish land bill and other important measures from passing the remaining stages.

It is asserted that the Irish members are largely responsible for the existing situation. The basis for this accusation is that their action in compelling the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, to rescind the vote for the erection of a statue to Oliver Cromwell, seriously undermined the government.

The speaker states that Mr. Gladstone does not desire a general election or the resignation of the Ministry, that his relations with the government are now what they were before he became a member of the party, and that he is friendly and loyal to the Ministry, and has confidence in it.

The speaker states that Mr. Gladstone does not desire a general election or the resignation of the Ministry, that his relations with the government are now what they were before he became a member of the party, and that he is friendly and loyal to the Ministry, and has confidence in it.

The Duke of Devonshire, the Unrest leader in the House of Lords, is staying at Ascot, and Mr. Chamberlain, the leader of the Unionists in the Commons, remains at the same place.

A meeting of the Unionists will be held Monday.

ROSEBURY GOES TO WINDSOR.

Will He Tender His Resignation to the Queen?

LONDON, June 22.—Lord Rosebery went to Windsor at 7:30 o'clock this evening. It was driven to the castle in one of the royal coaches.

The Premier's secretary, Mr. Murray, informed a representative of the United Press that Lord Rosebery had really gone to Windsor to agree to his resignation.

Lord Roberts is more likely to be appointed as commander-in-chief of the British army.

Connaught as the successor of the Duke of Cambridge will be the Duke of Connaught.

The Rt. Hon. Mr. Fowler, Secretary of State for India, has returned to Edinburgh, having been absent from the capital since the appointment of Prince Henry of Battenberg as Vice-Admiral of the Fleet.

Connaught as the commander-in-chief of the British army.

In this matter the Queen has carried her point, in insisting upon the observance of the precedent that a prince of

CHINESE LOAN CONTRACT.

The Statist and the Pall Mall Gazette

SAKS'

TREMENDOUS Sacrifices.

Sacrifices in fact—not on paper.

Sacrifices of fair profits and actual costs—not of inflated prices and fictitious figurings.

These special sales of ours are born—not of choice—but of necessity. They are offerings of our own regular stock—not the dregs of the market bought for the express purpose of jobbing 'em out under the guise of honest reductions.

For us this is a period of money-losing—not money-making. It is to be a sharp—decisive sale—that will lower the too-high piles and thin out the too-large lots of Men's Suits. So let the loss be all at once—and quickly over with!

FOR ONE WEEK ONLY.

On the Other Hand--

you have the same free and generous choice of

Thousands of Men's Summer Suits

that, had the conditions of the weather been different, would never have been food for such an uncompromising reduction.

Hundreds that are marked $16.50

Hundreds that are marked $18.00

And all the broken lots marked $20.00

With the original tickets still on them—and our guarantee still insuring your satisfaction to the full measure of their worth.

They're Yours for--

An honest sale—like this—has a purpose. When it is attained it will stop—must stop—hecause every day—every hour—means loss.

It shall last but six days. We've cut to the very bone, that the agony may be short-lived.

But you're welcome—this week—and a princely privilege it is—with this vast variety of All-Wool

Sterling Fancy Tweeds. Which? Fancy Cassimeres.
Fancy Mixed Worsteds. Which? Fancy Cheviots.

A. SAKS & COMPANY Y
"SAKS' CORNER,"
Main and Eleventh streets.

REPUBLICAN FOR PRESIDENT.

George B. Peck, Railway Solicitor, Favored for Nomination.

TOPEKA, KAN., June 22.—The friends of General Soldier George B. Peck, of the Santa Fe railroad, have started a movement to make him a candidate for the Republican nomination for President.

James R. Hollowell, a prominent Kansas leader, met by appointment here to-day a number of his friends, who believe Peck would be a strong candidate in the West. Hollowell left for Chicago to confer with Illinois Republicans about the candidacy. Hollowell has just returned from the Republican leaders of that State.

It is understood that Richard Kerens, of Missouri; E. Rosewater, of Nebraska, and Stephen B. Elliott, of West Virginia, are favorable to Peck.

It is understood that Richard Kerens, of Missouri; E. Rosewater, of Nebraska, and Stephen B. Elliott, of West Virginia, are favorable to Peck.

The men advocating Peck say he is the only man who can carry the Kansas delegation against McKinley, and as both Illinois and Kansas are in the doubtful column, Peck's nomination would ensure them for the Republicans.

BOWINGTON Case to Be Appealed.

WOBURN, Mass., June 22.—The attorneys for Captain Bowring, who was convicted yesterday of embezzlement and falsification of his accounts as disbursing officer of the Signal Service, today expressed their determination to appeal from the decision of the court of Appeals.

It is to be noted that Captain Bowring was tried at Woburn on the 10th instant, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L. Peck, of Woburn, and the trial was adjourned until the 12th, when he was sentenced to prison for six months.

The trial was adjourned because of the illness of the judge, Mr. James L